Delivery	The mode in which an activity is delivered to participants.
Assessment Task	A task to test a participant's knowledge of a particular topic or area of learning.

1. Introduction

The Continuing Professional Development (CPD) Program has been designed to ensure that RMAs have the support they need to manage their practice successfully, professionally and ethically under the Code of Conduct, year after year.

The main purpose is to assist migration agents with practical tools to manage all aspects of their business, including making preliminary contact with clients and agreeing on a course of action based on their analysis. Preparing, reviewing and lodging applications or appeals, representing clients before DOHA and other bodies, monitoring progress of cases and finalising matters are some of the tasks which not only require ongoing learning but also good organisational, analytical and business management skills. Such work must be conducted as per the migration agents' Code of Conduct and ethical principles.

Undertaking initial and ongoing professional development activities helps ensure that migration agents can operate with these standards and successfully manage a compliant practice.

1.1 Mission Statement for Professional Development

To help professionals within the migration industry in:

- Developing their skills in providing migration advice and operating a compliant practice
- Gaining new knowledge and information about migration policies and legislation
- Contributing to the development of professional knowledge and practice

1.2 Purpose of this document

The purpose of this document is to set out the policies, procedures and governance for the implementation of Mckkr's CPD Program for Registered Migration Agents.

2. Activity Types and Schedule

McKkr's develops CPD Activities including study papers, workshop presentations, course modules, case studies and assessment activities to encourage enhancement of expected underpinning knowledge of relevant legislation and government policy and are directly related to the Occupational Competency Standards.

McKkr's delivers continuing professional development to RMAs through the following CPD Activity types. All the activities are designed with highly intellectual and practical content.

2.1 Distance learning without a facilitator (Private Study)

The Private Study option under distance learning is delivered through the McKkr's CPD web portal. This option is for those who would like to study their chosen CPD activity material during their free time. After registering for the online option, participants will be able to download the materials from the web portal and study in their own time.

It requires successful completion of an assessment to demonstrate completion of the activity. Each activity has an assessment task in the form of 25 multiple choice questions and participants must get 19 questions out of 25 correct for a CPD activity to get 1 CPD point. Each activity is expected to have a learning time of 90 minutes.

Private Study are Category 'B' CPD Activities.

2.2 Seminars (Face-to-face)

Seminars are face-to-face activities and participants are present with the facilitator. Seminars facilitate comprehensive study of specific subject areas. Usually, presentations are blended with discussion and an exchange of ideas between participants. Each seminar is expected to have a learning time of 90 minutes. Each 90-minute Seminar will award 1 CPD point.

Seminars are Category 'B' CPD Activities.

2.3 Workshops (Face-to-face)

Workshops are face-to-face activities and participants are present with the facilitator. Workshops are designed for intensive learning through discussions on case studies, brain storming activities, thorough presentations, and exchange of ideas.

Workshops are Category 'A' CPD Activities.

Each one hour of workshop is worth one CPD point and participants must complete a minimum of 5 points of a Category A activity which includes the options of Workshops and Programmes of Education. McKkr's offers the option of only Workshops in this category. The CPD activities will be delivered in either 1-hour, 2-hour or 3-hour blocks and will have a capacity of 30 participants per session.

2.4 Conference (Face-to-face)

McKkr's offers 6-hour conferences, designed around sharing information on topics directly relevant to Australian immigration. Participants will be awarded CPD points for the 'Conference Day' they attend. Participants will be given an opportunity to network with other agents and guest speakers. 1 CPD point is awarded for every 1.5 hours of conference time.

McKkr's conferences are designed to help migration agents to identify new business opportunities, network with industry professionals and add value to their professional practice. It will be organised in different cities and will have set activities and outcomes to be achieved. McKkr's will invite range of speakers to ensure the 'Conference Day' is productive and value adding to participating RMAs.

Conferences are Category 'B' CPD Activities.

Note: If participants attending face-to-face Activities need special assistance, requirements must be requested at least 3 days prior to the session.

2.5 Online Workshops (Webinars)

Webinars are online CPD activities where participants are present with the facilitator in a virtual environment and through McKkr's webinar platform they can hear each other, participate in discussions orally and in writing (through chats and messages) and see the computer screen of the presenter. Each Webinar is expected to have a learning time of 60 minutes. Each 60-minute Webinar will award 1 CPD point. McKkr's Webinar Platform has the ability to generate attendance and participation rate of each participant which is generated electronically at the end of each Webinar. The Webinar Platform also saves all these records for future reference.

Webinars are Category 'A' CPD Activities.

Participants must complete a minimum of 5 points of a Category A activity which includes the options of Workshops (Face-to-Face OR Webinars) and Programmes of Education. McKkr's offers the option of only Workshops (Face-to-Face OR Webinars) in this category. The CPD activities will be delivered in either 1-hour, 2-hour or 3-hour blocks and will have a capacity of 30 participants per session.

5. Program Administration

5.1 Monitoring and Tracking Attendance

For all face-to-face Activities except webinars, the attendance is monitored by the presenter/facilitator to ensure accurate identification of the participants. The evidence of written attendance (signed by each participant) is collected at the beginning and end of each Activity.

For Private Study, electronic assessment completion results are kept for records as an evidence of completing an Activity.

For webinars, the attendance including the time a Participant was present during the Webinar is generated by the electronic platform McKkr's uses.

Where CPD points are awarded for attendance, McKkr's ensures that participants were present for the entire duration for each Activity.

5.2 Reporting Points

McKkr's reports CPD points on the basis of attendance or completion of an Activity to the OMARA electronically within 3 working days of the completion of an Activity eligible for the award of CPD points

5.3 Participant Feedback

McKkr's will ensure that participants' feedback is captured at the end of each activity and evaluated for improvement opportunities on a regular basis.
